“Kids Achieving Excellence In An Excellent Environment”

*Revised 8/1/2018
COPE Board of Directors*

MISSION

Our motto at Kingdom Kids Child Development Center is “Kids Achieving Excellence in in an Excellent Environment.” Our goal is to provide both a Christian and educational atmosphere for preschoolers as well as school-age children. Preschoolers will be exposed to age-appropriate educational activities that should accelerate their academic achievement. We understand that school-age children sometimes have difficult days at school, and anticipate having some loosely structured activities.

The children will participate in developmental activities led by our well-trained professional senior staff, group leaders, and aides. We strive to assist in the spiritual, social, emotional, and physical development of each child. Children are free to develop and advance at their own pace. Children of all abilities are welcome in our Center regardless of special health or developmental needs. We individualize our activities to meet those needs and welcome specialized service providers, such as therapists or nurses with parent or guardian permission.

Kingdom Kids Child Development Center (the “Center”) is an entity of the City of Peace Enterprises, Inc., which is the Community Development Corporation of Shalom Ministries Christian Center. As such, it is founded on Christian principles.

GENERAL ADMINISTRATION

Center Hours

The Center's hours of operation are 6:30 a.m. - 6:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

State License

Kingdom Kids Preschool & Before and After School Programs are licensed by the State of Maryland (Child Care Administration License Number 16120375). The license is displayed at the main entrance of the Center. We are inspected periodically by our regulatory agencies to ensure that your child receives the best in the areas of health, safety and any specific requirements mandated by the state.

Administration

Administration of the program will be directed according to state and local written policies and procedures. Administrative policies will dictate a wholesome and caring atmosphere so that everyone will feel a sense of belonging that should permeate the entire Center. Communication with staff will be maintained through verbal, written, via email, and on the website, including reference materials such as the Parent Handbook. At Kingdom Kids it is our goal to serve families with children of varying abilities and special needs. We will do everything within our capabilities to ensure that all children are provided a safe learning environment.

Staffing

The Center will maintain the appropriate student-teacher ratio required by the state. Adequate staff will always be on duty to provide individual attention to all of the children. Staff development is a necessary and essential component of our program. Staff will receive ample training throughout the school year to enhance their skills and promote healthy and wholesome relationships with the children.

Philosophy Statement

Our motto at Kingdom Kids Child Development Center is "Kids Achieving Excellence in an Excellent Environment." The children will participate in developmentally appropriate activities. We strive to assist in the spiritual, social, emotional, linguistic and physical development of each child. In our program we believe children should be free to develop and advance at their own pace. Children of all abilities are welcome in our center regardless of special health or developmental needs. We individualize our activities to meet those needs and welcome specialized service providers, such as therapists or nurses with parent or guardian permission. In our program we believe it is important to individualize for each and every child to ensure they are successful in achieving excellence.

In our program we welcome all children and families by integrating information from the children lives, families and communities into lessons to give a feel of community and acceptance. We provide learning activities for families to engage in at home to further expand the learning, and close the gap. We believe that all families deserve to be a part of the decision making and goal setting for their child to ensure rounded learning environment. Families are engaged using several communication types such as newsletters, flyers, email, and face-to-face engagements. The engagements from personnel are welcoming and authentic. Our program also provides several diverse materials for children to engage with. Children are allowed to explore, make choices and lead activities. We use several types of assessment and inquiry tools to ensure each child's needs, interests and strengths are enriched. We are sure to include several types of learning strategies and topics which embraces family backgrounds, culture and home languages. We believe that having positive family relationships is a critical component in delivering high quality education.

Policy for Positive Behavioral Practices

Staff will use only positive guidance, redirection, and setting of clear rules and expectations that foster the child's own ability to become self-disciplined and learn how to self-regulate. Staff will encourage the child to be fair, and respectful to others, to demonstrate proper use of property, and to assume personal responsibility. Discipline involves teaching character and self-control. Because families differ in how they approach discipline, parents are asked to work closely with the staff in setting goals in discipline that are achievable for the student. We use a variety of ways to build positive relationships with the children and families within our program. A few include daily interactions such as greeting them every morning and celebrating their successes. We also plan activities around their interest. We use a variety of strategies to encourage children's positive behaviors and help them avoid negative behavior such as modeling positive words and actions, encouraging children to describe their feelings, acknowledging positive behavior and intervening before negative behaviors or situations occur.

Providing Choices

Often, we provide choices throughout the day for example the children are able to choose the interest areas they would like to play in. We also allow the children to choose the toys and materials they would like to add to an interest area. During breakfast and snack time we give the children a choice between two selections. Lastly, children are able to choose which classroom job they would like to do. We believe that giving children choices encourages independence and decision making. It also, allows for positive control over their environment.

Redirection

Our program uses redirection in several ways to guide positive behavior. We use verbal redirection by giving simple directions that distract a child away from a challenging behavior or situation and guide the child to more appropriate activities or choices. An example of this is when we use reminders of the classroom rules or share other ways for the children to engage with their peers. We also encourage the children verbally to praise each other. Another way that we use redirection is through physical guidance. We may offer a gentle touch to children to interrupt a challenging behavior while giving a simple direction and guiding the child to a more appropriate behavior or activity. An example of how we use physical redirection is when we notice a child is on the verge of losing control or beginning to show frustration we quickly yet seamlessly guide a child with a gentle touch on the back or by the hand to a new interest area or activity to engage in. Throughout the center there are also visual cues to remind children and redirect challenging behavior. During transitions in the hallways teachers may place their finger to their lip as a visual cue that children should be quiet in the hallway. Often times the teachers in the classroom use redirection with attention. An example of this is during large group, if a child is sitting and being attentive and following carpet rules while other children aren't, we will point out that modeled behavior. This usually encourages the other children to behave as expected.

Reflection and Problem Solving

Our program has implemented the five-step problem solving approach. All staff is to model, teach, and help children practice these steps which continues contribute to positive problem-solving skills.

1. Identify the problem
2. Brainstorm three ways to handle it
3. Choose one way to try first and decide on a back-up plan
4. Try out the strategy
5. Evaluate how well the strategy works

We understand that supporting each child and teaching them to reflect and problem solve encourages them to believe in themselves as successful problem solvers and builds healthy social and emotional skills.

Clear Rules and Expectations

The rules that are developed in our program are established by both the children and teachers. The rules are established the first week of school with the children and children are clear on their expectations in the facility. The rules are reinforced and reviewed daily to support positive behavior and are appropriate for each age group. An example of how they are written is "We will use our walking feet" and "We will use kind words". The rules are clear and simple language is used for children to understand. The expectations are modeled by all adults in the program and visual cues are associated with each rule.

Our program uses observations to monitor the children's progress when planning for instruction, our teachers must develop goals. Our teachers use a variety of assessment tools such as: observations, checklists, and written and oral tests. These assessment tools help the us determine if students have mastered an objective.

A few examples of how we record are:

- Notes jotted on paper
- Video Recordings
- Audio Recordings

Children are observed daily through written and oral test, while assessments and checklist are done quarterly by the classroom teachers. These assessments begin the first week of school so that teachers can get a clear sense of each child's level. Observations allow the teachers individualize and create goals based on the information gathered from the children. Through these observations the teachers are not only able meet each child at their own level, but they are also able to narrow down areas of concern or goals mastered to discuss with families during conferences.

Parent-Teacher Conference Statement

Our program conduct parent teacher conferences twice throughout the school year. Once in November and again in April. We have added the dates for Parent Teacher Conferences to our school calendar which is given out to families on the first day of school. Our School Calendar is also posted on the parent communication board for parents to review. Families are sent a message on Learning Genie with information on how to schedule parent teacher conferences with their child's teacher on a specific date and block of time. Our Staff uses Sign Up Genius to allow parent to pick a time slot that best works for their schedule. Teachers are notified through email once a parent has signed up. For parents that can not come in they are given the option of a phone conference or a reschedule date.

Screen Time Policy

Our program has a limited use of appropriate interactive technology that may support, but does not replace, other forms of learning, such as outdoor play, creative play, hands-on exploration, social interactions, etc.

Our use of "Passive Technology" means non-interactive television, videos and streaming media. Our viewing restrictions for passive technology are: children under the age of 2 must not engage in any passive technology children older than 2 are not permitted to view more than 30 minutes of age-appropriate, educational passive technology per week. Also, we require each teacher to include these activities as a part of their weekly lesson plans.

Morning Arrival and Authorized Pickup

Consistency is important to young children. A daily routine helps the children know what to expect. Each class will follow a weekly schedule.

All preschool students should arrive by 9:00 am daily. Please call if you will be late. Upon arrival, each student must be signed in using our computerized system. Students arriving after 8:00 am must eat breakfast before their arrival. Breakfast will not be served after 8:00 am.

Every precaution will be taken to ensure that persons visiting the Center will report to the office prior to visiting the classrooms. Each student must be signed in and out. Staff on duty may not sign out children. All adults other than the parents will be required to show proper ID.

Parents must provide Kingdom Kids Child Development Center with a certified copy of court orders if a parent or spouse is not allowed to see or pick up a child.

Custody, Visitation, Support, Care and Related Issues

The Center recognizes that the parents or guardians of enrolled children may be subject to court order stipulations or other agreements, which govern custody, visitation, support, care and other, related issues.

Curriculum Statement

Our program's activities and lesson plans are guided by the Creative Curriculum as the major curriculum used in each classroom. We also use the Abeka curriculum and Healthy Beginnings as supportive curriculums. Our program uses its curriculums to plan activities and lessons. We often implement activities directly from the creative curriculum however, we do find activities and lessons from our supportive curriculums to build greater connection and meet the children's developmental needs. The teachers in each classroom modifies activities to meet the individual needs of the children in our program. The children in our program are ages 2-5 years old. Our program's curriculum matches the children's ages and developmental levels by offering strategies and guidance to individualize the activities for each child. The usage of curriculums is broken down by age groups.

Children Ages 2 - 3 ½:
Major Curriculum- Creative Curriculum
Supportive Curriculum- Healthy Beginnings

Children Ages 3 ½ - 5
Major Curriculum – Creative Curriculum
